The Legislature.

The Legislature adjourned on Monday last. Though a majority consisted in young men, it was in our opinion the best Legislature that has assembled in Raleigh since the war. Many questions of vital importance to the people at large, and among them stand prominent the Public Debt, the Usury Law, Call of a Convention, have been satisfactorily adjusted. The democrats have indeed been faithful stewards and we sincerely trust the kind! We would remind the Echo tion at the hands of their constituents. We don't mean to individa worth, and in fact of all the demowent up from the radical element in the state whose corruption and manifold evil deeds were exposed to the righteous indignation of a long patient people.

Since that publication, Mabson has pubished a card in the Wilmington Post emphatically denying the charge, and asserts that the only truth in the Southerner article was the declaration that he had made a speech. We have waited to the present time to learn what the Southerner had to say in vindication of itself, and as it is silent upon the subject, we have concluded that it must have been misinform-

Does the Echo think for a moment that the SOUTHERNER is so destitute of self-respect as to say anything in vindication of what it publishes as a fact against an unprincipled negro demagogue because he denies the charge in a dirty negro sheet?
